Founded in 1983, the North Coast Athletic Conference is dedicated to fostering a complementary relationship between intercollegiate athletics and the pursuit of academic excellence. Consisting of 10 academically selective colleges and universities in Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania — Allegheny College, Denison University, DePauw University, Hiram College, Kenyon College, Oberlin College, Ohio Wesleyan University, Wabash College, Wittenberg University, The College of Wooster, along with affiliate member Earlham College — the NCAC believes that high-level athletic programs need not be sacrificed in order to meet rigid academic standards.

Significantly, all 10 NCAC institutions have been granted chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, the preeminent honor society for colleges and universities. Only 276 of the more than 3,000 four-year institutions in the United States have been so honored.

Andy Manson, DePauw

A member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's Division III, the NCAC features championship competition in 23 sports — 11 for men and 12 for women. The 12 women's sports are among the most offered by any Division III conference, and the equality in number and emphasis between men's and women's athletics is just one of the elements that sets the North Coast apart.

The goals of the conference express the best aspirations of American amateur athletics. The NCAC brings together a group of institutions which share a common allegiance to academic quality and to the conduct of athletics so as to support the educational purpose. Intercollegiate athletics can and should complement academic life, rather than compete with it, and sports should enhance the experience of students during their college years. This type of academic and athletic commitment has been led by the 10 school presidents, who have taken an active role in the governance of the conference.

Forty-eight teams from all 23 North Coast sports and all nine members competed in the NCAA post-season during the 2010-11 academic year. The NCAC added one more NCAA Division III swimming championships as Denison claimed the men's title. Conference members have accumulated 62 national championships since the league was formed in February of 1983.

In the past academic year, 207 All-America or Capital One/CoSIDA Academic All-America certificates were distributed to student-athletes from North Coast schools.

The NCAC's commitment to equity, its broad base of athletic programs, and an unwavering insistence on excellence in academics has served as a model for conferences throughout the country.

The North Coast has shown not only that these ideals can coexist, but that they can flourish. The NCAC continues as a pace-setter in the 21st century.

Sarah Vorder Bruegge, Allegheny

WOMEN'S OUTLOOK

The 2011-12 season brings a new member into the fold for the first time since the 1999-00 campaign as DePauw joins the North Coast. The Tigers are expected to make an immediate impact, as they were picked by the coaches in their annual preseason poll to win the NCAC title.

DEPAUW returns nine letterwinners and three starters from a 25-4 team that advanced to the NCAA Division III tournament for the eighth consecutive season. Top returnees include senior forward Katie Aldrich, who led the team with 13.3 points per game and a 53.7 field-goal shooting percentage, and juniors Kate Walker and Ellie Pearson. Walker and Pearson both started all 29 games for DePauw in 2010-11, and combined to account for 16 points per game. Pearson also led the Tigers in rebounding with 254 (8.8 per game).

Defending NCAC champion DENISON was picked to finished second, in part because of the graduation of two-time conference player of the year Shaina Kaiser. Still, the Big Red have 17 letterwinners and the other four starters back from a 28-1 team that posted a perfect 14-0 mark in NCAC play. Junior point guard Serafina Nuzzo is the anchor for Denison in the coming year after leading the league in assist-turnover ratio (2.4) and finishing second in assists (5.9 per game) as a sophomore. She was a first-team all-conference selection in 2010-11. The Big Red have won three North Coast titles in the past five seasons, and advanced to the national tournament six times in the past seven years.

KENYON was predicted to finish third. The Ladies have four starters back from a 15-12 team that finished fourth in the league. Leading the way is senior forward Morgan Korinek. She led the NCAC in rebounding with 252 caroms (9.3 per game), and was second with 65 steals. Korinek and junior post Kayla Ernst are returning all-conference performers. Ernst was a member of the first team, while Korinek earned her second all-league nod as a member of the second team. Ernst led the Ladies with 14.8 points per game as a sophomore, while junior Maureen Hirt, who led the conference in three-pointers made (70), also returns.

ALLEGHENY finished third in the North Coast last season, and have last season's newcomer of the year back in the fold, sophomore guard Erica Restich. Junior forward Heidi Goeller is back after an outstanding sophomore campaign in which she led the NCAC in field-goal percentage (51.1) and was third in free-throw shooting (82.7) to earn first-team recognition. Still, the Gators must contend with the loss of Jill Gregory, a three-time all-conference selection. Allegheny aims to win its first North Coast crown since 2001.

WITTENBERG is coming off its first non-winning season in 20 years with seven letterwinners and four starters back from a 12-14 squad that finished fifth at 7-7. A trio of seniors lead the way for the Tigers: Posts Sarah Watson and Kim Replogle and wing Lauren Cassel. Watson earned second-team all-league honors last year. Wittenberg last won the North Coast in 2010.

OHIO WESLEYAN has a new coach at the helm for the first time 25 years and not only are the Battling Bishops adjusting to new leadership at the coaching level, but they also are contending with the loss of three all-NCAC performers, all of whom scored over 1,000 points in their respective careers. New head coach Stacey Ungashick Reed, who served as an assist for four seasons before being promoted, has high hopes for junior guard Kandis Walker at the point and sophomore guard Julia Grimsley. The development of newcomers will be key to OWU's fortunes in the coming season.

HIRAM has four starters back from a 12-14 team that placed sixth in last year's conference standings. Senior guards Kelsey Durichko and Tiffany Shields took leadership roles last season that should continue into 2011-12. Durichko was an all-conference pick, while Shields led the Terriers with 14.2 points per game.

OBERLIN returns all but one player from last year's seventh-place team. Junior Allison Anderson is coming off an outstanding sophomore campaign in which she ranked in the top five in the NCAC in scoring (15.1, fifth), assists (6.3, first), steals (2.9, first), three-point field goals (1.9, second) and minutes played (909, first). Junior Kelly Warlich is another solid returnee after averaging 12.1 points and 7.2 rebounds per game in 2010-11.

WOOSTER has nine letterwinners and four starters back, led by junior Jessica Wingen, who had 8.5 points and 6.6 rebounds as a sophomore. She earned all-conference honors, and led the league in with 1.8 blocks per game. Suvi Puripattaran will likely take over the point after 12 starts as a freshman, and a team-best 37 steals.

ALLEGHENY WOMEN

Outlook

The 2010-11 Allegheny women's basketball squad returned to the NCAC championship game for the first time since 2007, as the Gators saw their season end just one win shy of reaching the NCAA tournament.

A pair of All-NCAC performers return to lead the Gators. Junior forward Heidi Goeller is coming off an All-NCAC first team selection in 2010-11, when she led the team in points per game (14.7) and free-throw percentage (83%). Goeller also led the entire conference in field goal percentage at 51 percent.

With Goeller dominating in the post, it should free up space for 2010-11 NCAC Newcomer of the Year, and all-conference second-team selection, guard Erica Restich. Restich, averaged an impressive 15.2 points per game in Allegheny's last 10 games, a stretch that saw the Gators go 7-3.

Other key returners for Allegheny include juniors Ann Ryan, and Daryl Ford. Ryan averaged 7.2 points, and 4.6 rebounds per game while appearing in all 27 contests for the Gators. Ford chipped in 9.9 points and 6.9 rebounds per game, starting in 26 of 27 games for Allegheny.

DENISON WOMEN

Outlook

The Big Red return four starters from last season's record-setting 28-1 season. Denison ran through the regular season with a 25-0 record and put together three victories in the NCAC Tournament to capture the program's seventh conference tournament championship.

The 2011 NCAC Player of the Year and WBCA All-American, Shaina Kaiser, has graduated but head coach Sara Lee returns eight of her 10 rotation players from a season ago. Junior point guard Serafina Nuzzo was a first-team All-NCAC selection (11.6 ppg). Nuzzo was also second in the NCAC in assists (5.9 apg).

Also returning to the mix are seniors Christina Myers (8.4 ppg), Jessica Grzybowski (4.3 ppg; 4.1 rpg) and Annie-Rae Dura. Junior guard Nicole Coggins also returns to the starting lineup after a strong sophomore campaign (8.6 ppg; .480 FG percentage). Coggins was named to the All-NCAC second-team.

Denison enters the 2011-12 season winners of six out of the last seven NCAC Tournaments. All seven NCAA Tournament appearances have been under Lee.

HIRAM WOMEN

Outlook

Hiram women's basketball features a very experienced team in 2011-12 as the Terriers return the majority of their roster from a year ago.

Back to lead Hiram is senior All-NCAC guard Kelsey Durichko. Durichko finished fourth on the team in scoring as a junior with a 6.8 points per game average on 53-of-176 shooting (30.1 percent). She led the team in assists with a Hiram single-season record 138 and was tied for the team-lead in rebounding at 169 (6.5 rebounds per game). She also led the team in steals with 56. In addition to Durichko, look for fellow senior Tiffany Shields to play a pivotal role. Shields averaged a team-best 14.2 ppg. in 2010-11 and also made a team-leading 69 free-throws in 97 attempts (71.1 percent), and had a team-high 18 blocked shots.

Look for juniors Chelsea Kovach, Amy Geisman, Calysia Smyers and Brenna Host to make an impact this season. Kovach was third in scoring a year ago with a 7.6 ppg. average. Geisman averaged 4.3 rpg. at her forward position in addition to scoring 5.4 ppg. Smyers added 4.6 ppg. and Host averaged 3.1 ppg.

KENYON WOMEN

Outlook

For seven straight seasons, Kenyon worked its way into the NCAC tournament semifinal final round. Now, with a veteran lineup returning, the 2011-12 Ladies are making it their goal to move as far beyond that semifinal stage as possible.

The team graduated just three seniors and returns nine letterwinners, including four starters. With players like Morgan Korinek, Kalya Ernst, and Maureen Hirt still on the roster, a regular-season and/or tournament title is certainly within the Ladies' reach.

Korinek and Ernst are a solid one-two punch in the frontcourt. Ernst, a junior, had a banner sophomore season in which she led the team in scoring (14.8 ppg). Korinek, a senior, is a rebounding machine. She not only led the team, but the entire NCAC with an average of 9.3 rpg last season. Additionally, she tossed in 12 points per game.

On the perimeter, Hirt emerged as the Ladies' main long-distance threat. She canned a conference-high 70 three-balls and ranked second on the team in scoring (14.0 ppg). Hirt will once again be paired in the backcourt with junior Katie Adlam, who had 41 assists and 32 steals as a sophomore last season.

OBERLIN WOMEN

Outlook

Oberlin enters the 2011-12 season with an experienced group of players. The Yeowomen are lead by All-NCAC second-team point guard Allison Anderson. She averaged 15.1 points, 6.3 assists and 6.0 rebounds per game, and also had an NCAC-leading 69 steals.

The Yeowomen also welcome back junior small forward Kelly Warlich. She is the team's second-leading returning scorer after averaging 12.1 points per game last year. Warlich's 7.2 rebounds per game led the team last season and Oberlin will look to her to control the boards once again.

The Yeowomen turn to junior Ellen Neumann and sophomore Allison Gannon to compliment Anderson and Warlich. Neumann, a center who is capable of stepping behind the arc and shooting the three, averaged seven points a game and grabbed 5.2 rebounds a game. Gannon, who made a late season surge last year, averaged 6.3 points per game as a freshman. The Yeowomen only lost one starter to graduation, Syrea Thomas, and look to continue to improve in league play.

OHIO WESLEYAN WOMEN

Outlook

It would be an exaggeration to say that coach Stacey Ungashick Reed passed out "Hello, my name is..." labels on the first day of practice. But between Ungashick Reed taking over the Bishop helm and assembling a new coaching staff, the fact that more than 70 percent of last year's offense must be replaced, and the arrival of a dozen freshmen eager to make an immediate impact, it is safe to say that there were introductions to be made.

Junior Kandis Walker looks to take over the point guard spot. Walker was quite productive in a reserve role last year, averaging over 2.0 assists per game. Sophomore Julia Grimsley returns at one wing position, and will reprise her role as the defensive specialist on the court. Junior Helen Scheblo and sophomore Tamra Londot, both of whom started games last season, could take over the post positions.

Freshman Sarah McQuade will see action at point guard. Freshman wing Mary Corbett looks to give the Bishops additional long-range firepower, freshman wing Caroline Welker can play either the 3 or the 4 position, and freshman post LaNiece McRae will battle for playing time inside.

WITTENBERG WOMEN

Outlook

Wittenberg returns seven letterwinners, including three starters, in hopes of returning to the top of the NCAC heap in 2011-12. The Tigers are coming off their first losing season in more than 20 years after finishing 12-14 overall and 7-7 in the conference last year.

Senior Sarah Watson is the team's top returning starter after earning second-team All-NCAC honors a year ago. Watson teams with junior Kim Replogle to form a potent post combination. Watson ranked second on the team in three-pointers, while Replogle does most of her work in the paint.

There is experience on the perimeter as well, although the loss of first-team All-NCAC wing Katherine Hueter is significant. Senior Lauren Cassel was the team's most improved player a year ago. She started all 26 games and evolved from defensive standout into a reliable scoring option. Cassel shot a team-best 48 percent from the field. She is joined in the starting lineup by versatile senior Lyndsey Clark, who is comfortable in the post or handling the ball.

Juniors Aimee Carpenter and Sarah Skidmore and senior Lindley Bell provide depth and experience to the line-up after each earned her first varsity letter in 2010-11.

WOOSTER WOMEN

Outlook

Behind core players Jessica Wingen, Karley Walker, and Suvi Puripattarapan, as well as six other returnees, and five incoming freshman, Wooster's women's basketball team will be looking to make a drastic improvement on its standing in the NCAC.

Wingen is coming off of an all-conference season, where she led the league in blocks (1.8 bpg), was eighth in rebounds (6.6 rpg), and averaged a career-best 8.5 points per game. The six-foot forward could become one of the top double-double threats in the league.

Walker was one of the NCAC's highest scoring freshmen last year, averaging 9.3 points per game, which included a 33.6 percent (36-for-107) clip from three-point range. She also turned up all over the stat sheet, leading the team in assists (3.1 apg) and chipping in 3.9 rebounds along the way.

Puripattarapan is likely to take over the starting point guard duties this winter, after earning 12 starting nods in 2010-11. The sophomore made 26 three-pointers and led the team steals (37) a season ago.

Also noteworthy, senior Samantha Sulzer returns after having a career year as does promising sophomore Ashley Lindemann and senior Sarah Abboud.

MEN'S PREVIEW

WOOSTER, a seven-time defending North Coast champion and NCAA Division III national runners-up last season, were predicted to win the 2011-12 NCAC crown. The Fighting Scots received six first-place votes and 93 total points in the coaches' preseason poll. Wooster graduated four top players from last season's 31-3 squad, but have plenty of talent and experience remaining. Senior forward Justin Hallowell is the team's only returning all-conference player. Hallowell, the North Coast's Newcomer of the Year three seasons ago, wound up second in the league in three-pointers made (79) and pulled down 208 rebounds last year. Senior guard Matt Fegan is another returning starter among eight total letterwinners back.

WITTENBERG, which last won an NCAC title in 2004, was predicted to finish second in the conference this year. Seven letterwinners are back in the fold, among them senior first-team all-conference forward Clayton Black. He is the team's top returning scorer after contributing 15.2 points per game in 2010-11. Alex Brandt and Michael Cooper are also returning starters. The Tigers will be bolstered by the return of senior Josh McKee, who missed last season due to illness, and Cameron Walton, who missed most of the year due to an injury.

OHIO WESLEYAN is coming off a 16-11 season and a tie for third place in the NCAC. The Battling Bishops return all five starters and all but one letterman from that squad. Senior wing Tim Brady is a returning first-team all-league performer who led the team in scoring (17.2 ppg). Junior guard Andy Winters led the North Coast in assists as a sophomore (145) and junior post Marshall Morris was fourth overall in rebounding (187). Winters and Morris were both second-team All-NCAC players.

WABASH is under the direction of a new head coach for the first time in 35 seasons as long-time assistant and Little Giant alum Antoine Carpenter takes over the reigns. Despite the loss of three key players from a 20-9 team, Wabash returns plenty talent that could lead to another 20-win season. A trio of seniors lead the way into 2011-12: guards Aaron Zinnerman and Brian Shelbourne, along with forward Derek Bailey. Zinnerman is the team's top returning scorer at 8.3 points per game, while Shelbourne compiled 101 assists and 107 rebounds as a junior.

In its first season as a member of the North Coast Athletic Conference, DEPAUW was picked to finish in the middle of the pack in fifth place. Long-time head coach Bill Fenlon has two starters and seven letterwinners back from a team that completed last year at 19-9. Senior Sean Haseley is the top returning scorer (14.0 ppg) and rebounder (145) for the Tigers.

DENISON has all five starters, including three seniors and a junior, back for 2011-12. Junior Dimonde Hale is the top returning scorer (17.7 ppg) and rebounder (183) for the Big Red, and he has plenty of support in seniors Larry Farmer (14.3 ppg), Mike Garabedian (10.2 ppg) and Jim Leffew (8.2 ppg). Denison was picked to finish sixth after last season's seventh-place finish.

HIRAM lost six seniors from last year's squad, but with a roster full of young yet experienced players, head coach Steve Fleming is optimistic about the coming year. Sophomore Aaron Stefanov, last season's NCAC Newcomer of the Year, heads the list of returnees for the Terriers. Stefanov saw action in all 26 games as a freshman, and is the team's top returning scorer (9.2 ppg). Seniors Jamaal Watkins and Andrew Wiegand solidify the experienced backcourt.

ALLEGHENY is led by senior James Ness, who returns after pouring in 16.0 points and pulling down 7.0 rebounds per game as a junior. Ness was a second-team all-league choice last year. Junior Devone McLeod (13.9 ppg) and sophomore D'Andre Corbin (8.1 ppg) also return for the Gators, who wound up eighth in the NCAC during 2010-11. A total of 10 letterwinners return, giving Allegheny plenty of experienced players to draw from.

KENYON must contend with the loss of five key players to graduation. The Lords have just two players with more than one year of experience: senior Anthony Chun and junior Marcus Healey. Sophomore Brian Lebowitz is back after a solid freshman campaign in which he scored 7.4 points per game, and pulled down 137 boards.

OBERLIN, which finished ninth last season, was predicted to finish 10th in 2011-12. The Yeomen have junior Andrew Fox and senior Josh Merritt, a pair of all-conference performers, back to lead the way. In all, 11 lettermen return, and with the addition of five freshman to the roster, Oberlin expects to be a tough team to keep pace with.

ALLEGHENY MEN

Outlook

Allegheny has made tremendous strides under second-year head coach Jim Driggs. The big question for the Gators is whether or not the progress will translate into wins as the team prepares for another season in the NCAC. The Gators pieced together a strong finish to the 2010-11 campaign and will begin the new slate as one of the youngest teams in the nation.

From an individual standpoint, the success of Allegheny's hardwood unit starts with senior captain James Ness, who has blossomed into one of the best big men in the league. Ness, who set an Allegheny record for career field-goal percentage (.618), was named All-NCAC Second Team.

Returning starters D'Andre Corbin and Devone McLeod lead Allegheny's contingent of guards. Corbin is a natural facilitator (second last season in the NCAC in assists and fourth in assist-to-turnover ratio), and McLeod served as the team's floor general last season. McLeod was named All-NCAC Honorable Mention.

Sophomore Ryan Stanko, who was often the first player off the bench last season, will be critical for the Gators' success.

DENISON MEN

Outlook

Head Coach Bob Ghiloni returns seven seniors along with his entire 10-man rotation from last season. After missing all but the first seven games of last season with an injury, senior Larry Farmer returns for his final season with the Big Red. Farmer led the NCAC in rebounding in 2009-10 and was averaging 14.4 ppg before his season was cut short last year.

Junior forward Dimonde Hale returns after earning second-team All-NCAC honors last year. Hale averaged 17.7 ppg and 7.0 rpg as a sophomore and was third in the conference in scoring and second in rebounding.

Aside from Farmer, DU also returns six other seniors in forward Mike Garabedian, center Marr Mansfield and guards Brett Tiberi, Casey Stockton, Jim Leffew and Robbie Deaton. Garabedian averaged double-figures in scoring while Leffew posted an outstanding +3.37 assist/turnover ratio.

Ghiloni will also look to sophomore Alex Longi and junior Jon Akpapunam for minutes this season. Longi started the final 19 games last year and averaged 7.2 ppg.

Outlook

DePauw returns seven lettermen including two starters from last year's 19-9 team which advanced to the Southern Collegiate Athletic Conference Tournament championship game and won 13 of its last 16 contests.

Senior Sean Haseley returns after earning second team all-SCAC honors last year. Haseley led the Tigers last year with 14.0 points per game and 56 three-pointers and was second with 5.2 rebounds each outing. Sophomore point guard Michael Wilkison averaged 6.6 points and was second on the team with 2.0 assists per game.

Junior Kevin Sullivan missed all of last year due to injury after earning a letter in his first season.

Among the top newcomers are Tommy Fernitz, Connor Rich, Bob Dillon and Frank Patton III.

HIRAM MEN

Outlook

The 2011-12 Hiram College men's basketball team will feature a roster that has experience and a balance of veterans and youth as the Terriers look to rebuild after the loss of six senior players from a year ago. None larger than three-time All-North Coast Athletic Conference guard Chris Roberts who ended his four-year career 14th on the program's all-time scoring list with 1,188 points.

Rhe senior duo of Andrew Wiegand and Jamaal Watkins are back to lead the team this season. Wiegand saw playing time both as a starter and coming off the bench in 2010-11 and averaged 8.0 ppg. He was second on the team in three-point shooting with 44 triples (44-of-123). Watkins primarily came off the bench last season and averaged 6.7 ppg. He was tied for second in blocks with 11 and was amongst the team leaders in rebounding at 4.1 rpg.

Also back this season is sophomore guard Aaron Stefanov. He was the 2010-11 NCAC Newcomer of the Year after finishing second on the team in scoring at 9.2 ppg., and led the Terriers in three-pointers made (58), attempts (127) and shooting percentage (45.7%).

KENYON MEN

Outlook

Despite returning five players who appeared in all 25 games last season, Kenyon will still field a young squad in 2011-12. Senior Anthony Chun and junior Marcus Healey are the only Lords with more than one year of experience. They'll be tasked with guiding a talented group of sophomores and a promising freshman class on the court.

Chun, a proven point guard, averaged 5.4 points and 2.9 assists per game while running the offense as a junior. Healey is Kenyon's lock-down defender and best threat from long range with a career .345 percentage (78-226) on three-pointers. Healey is also the Lords' top returning scorer.

The backcourt should be a real strength for Kenyon with sophomores Ikenna Nwadiibia and Julian Pavlin back in the fold. Nwadiibia is a slashing guard who can dish the ball or create high-percentage shots near the rim. Pavlin canned 20 of his 34 (.588) three-point attempts last season.

Sophomore Brian Lebowitz gives the Lords a dependable inside presence, but Kenyon will otherwise be short on experience in the post. Lebowitz started the final 21 games of the season and averaged 7.4 points and 5.5 rebounds per game as a freshman.

OBERLIN MEN

Yeomen Outlook

Head Coach Isaiah Cavaco

Oberlin enters the season with a nice mixture of experience and youth, led by senior point guard Josh Merritt and junior swingman Andrew Fox. Fox, who is coming off an ACL injury that prematurely ended his 2010-11 season, is back and stronger than ever, while Merritt has worked extremely hard throughout the offseason to end his career on a high note.

The Yeomen will also look to junior Charlie Crawford-Silva and sophomore Geoff Simpson for added production on the offensive end. Both players averaged a shade under eight points per game a season ago.

While the Yeomen may lack the size of other NCAC foes, the team is comprised of many quick players, so expect the Yeomen to run a much more up-tempo offense than they have in years past under sixth-year Head Coach Isaiah Cavaco.

Oberlin also added five freshmen to the roster, highlighted by backcourt players Jesse Neugarten and Miles Gueno.

OHIO WESLEYAN MEN

Head Coach Mike DeWitt

Ohio Wesleyan coach Mike DeWitt looks to pick up where his Battling Bishops left off last season, when the Bishops went undefeated in the month of January and won 11 of their final 14 games, a stretch that included a pair of losses to then-fifth-ranked Wooster.

DeWitt returns his entire starting lineup from that squad, led by senior wing Tim Brady, who ranked fifth in the conference in scoring on the way to first-team All-NCAC honors.

Junior guard Andy Winters and junior post Marshall Morris, both second-team All-NCAC picks last year, also return. Winters led the league in assists last season, while Morris was fourth in rebounding. Both were among the NCAC's top 15 scorers.

Other key returnees include junior wing Vaughn Spaulding, who provided a spark off the bench last year; sophomore post Ruel Rogers, who developed into a reliable post presence; and junior post Billy Reilich, who was a solid inside player.

Newcomers who could contribute include freshman wing Robby Rinehart, who earned honorable mention All-Ohio honors last year; and freshman guard Nick Felhaber.

WABASH MEN

Outlook

The 2011-12 version of the Wabash basketball team will be a new look with some familiar faces.

Former head coach Mac Petty retired after 35 seasons and turned the reigns over to former Wabash player and assistant coach Antoine Carpenter.

All-American forward Wes Smith, who graduated along with forward Ben Burkett and guards Dominique Thomas and Andrew Gilman, is gone from a team that posted a 20-6 record. However, most of the players who helped Wabash to its highest win total since the 1999-00 season are back.

Senior guard Aaron Zinnerman is the top returning scorer (8.3 ppg). Fellow senior Derek Baily will play the swing position after scoring 8.1 points and grabbing 3.4 rebounds a contest. Brian Shelbourne dished out 3.9 assists a game from his guard position as a junior. Nick Curosh (4.6 ppg, 5.8 rpg) and AJ Sutherlin (4.7 ppg, 1.9 rpg) provide additional senior leadership.

Junior Jordan Surenkamp (3.3 ppg) and sophomore Pete Nicksic (4.0 ppg, 3.0 rpg) also provide experience and depth for the Little Giants after playing in nearly every game last season. A large roster of freshmen will provide team depth.

WITTENBERG MEN

Outlook

Coming off their 25th NCAA Division III Tournament appearance, the Wittenberg Tigers welcome seven letterwinners, five of whom have at least 19 career starting assignments on their collegiate resume, back to the line-up in 2011-12.

The Tigers will lean heavily on a veteran group of post players. Senior Clayton Black earned All-NCAC honors after leading the Tigers in scoring at 15.2 points per game while hitting 56 percent of his shots. Senior Alex Brandt led the Tigers with 6.0 rebounds per game – while finishing with more offensive caroms than defensive – and ranked fourth on the team in scoring.

Senior forward Jacob Weide lends depth in the post after contributing 4.1 points and 3.3 rebounds off the bench. Senior forward Michael Cooper moved into the starting line-up last year and added 6.7 points and 4.5 rebounds per outing.

Senior Josh McKee was limited by illness during the 2010-11 basketball season after starting 41 games in his first two collegiate seasons. The Tigers need McKee and junior wing Cameron Walton, who suffered a season-ending injury midway through a breakout 2010-11 season, back at full strength in 2011-12.

WOOSTER MEN

Outlook

After graduating three of its top-four players from a group that won the NCAC championship and advanced to the 2011 NCAA Div. III national championship game, Wooster is relying on eight letterwinners to step into more prominent roles.

The team's lone returning all-conference player is Justin Hollowell, twice a second-team selection. The 6-7 senior forward is known for his three-point shooting (229 career makes on a .420 percentage).

The only other returning starter is senior guard Matt Fegan, who chipped in 5.9 points and 2.7 assists, however, senior defensive stopper Justin Warnes (3.5 ppg) and sophomore Ryan Snyder (3.3 ppg) also bring significant experience around the perimeter, having played in all 34 games during 2010-11.

On the inside, Wooster is looking for strong contributions from the junior duo of 6-6 Josh Claytor and 6-8 Jake May. They combined for 8.0 points and 6.0 rebounds in their roles last season.

Two additional letterwinners to track are senior sharp-shooting forward Mike Evans and sophomore Doug Thorpe, who contributed 12 points during the Scots' NCAA Tournament run.
